• O LORD, our Lord,
how majestic is your name in all the earth!
You have set your glory
above the heavens. •

— Psalms 8:1

The future is often a vague idea, anything that is not yesterday or today. It is a never attainable goal. The present is where we live, but the future is what we live for. As Christians we see a future filled with hope. Olivet Nazarene College is a part of the future.

PROLOGUE

Ask a small child what he wants to be when he grows up. "Fireman, doctor, just-like-daddy" are common answers. We had similar dreams as children, and few of us ever said we wanted to grow up to be college students. Olivet is not an end in itself; it is a means of achieving the goals we have set for our lives. Olivet is not an end. Olivet is more than a middle or an in-between. Olivet is a beginning.

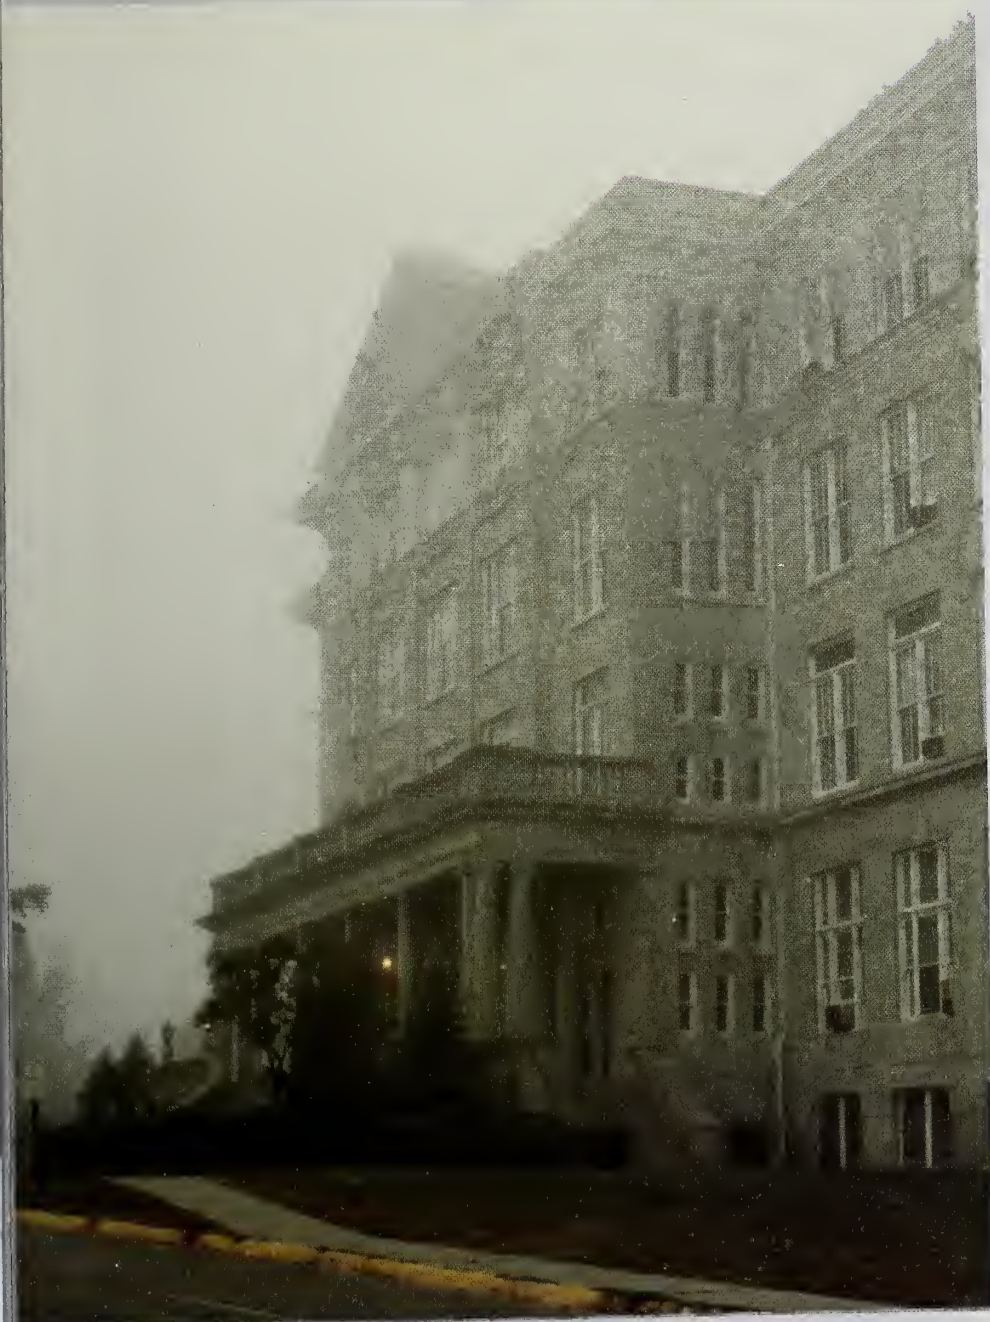

For us, here at Olivet, the future is a vast and beautiful expanse of God's will filled with potential. For us the future is the rest of our lives. Today we are praying for the direction our lives will take tomorrow.

Olivet is a college; it is "Education with a Christian Purpose." But there is more. Olivet is a place where our childhood dependence gives way to adult responsibility. Olivet is where the past stops and falls away in light of the present. Olivet is where the future begins.

Christ has filled the future with hope. At Olivet Nazarene College we begin to make that future a reality. Olivet — where the future begins . . .

DEDICATION

• The openness and concern of Dr. Sayes
has touched the lives of all of us
at Olivet. •

Dr. J. Ottis Sayes

Dr. J. Ottis Sayes came to Olivet Nazarene College in 1956. He has established himself as a man of confidence and candor, a man interested in the future. His academic ability earned him the position of chairman of the Division of Religion and Philosophy in 1966, the position he currently holds. Dr. Sayes is interested in others. Serving as advisor to the Associated Student Government since 1959, Dr. Sayes' openness and honesty have been of great benefit to the student body. Any student council member of the past or the present would be able to verify his invaluable contribution. His concern has evidenced itself in his participation in many college committees. He was chairman of the Culture Series for a number of years, served on Olivet's intercollegiate Athletic Board, and is presently a member of the review board that awards honorary degrees. At one time he also held the position of director of graduate studies in religion.

The major area of Dr. Sayes academic concern is in Christian Education. He is one of the authors of Exploring Christian Education and Exploring Our Christian Faith. A frequent contributor to the Herald of Holiness, Church School Builder, and Preacher's Magazine, he is now on a committee to evaluate Sunday school curriculum for the Church of the Nazarene. As an advisor and contributor to "The Enduring World Series," his work is seen in Nazarene adult Sunday school classes throughout the denomination.

Dr. Sayes is in the forefront of Christian education. He is mentioned in the "Who's Who in American Educators," "Who's Who in the Mid West" and the "International Biography of 'Who's Who in Religion.'" The openness and concern of Dr. Sayes has touched the lives of all of us at Olivet. He stands on his convictions, and he believes in "Education with a Christian Purpose." Dr. Sayes is a man who learns from the past, lives in the present, and looks to the future. This, the 1980 AURORA, is dedicated to Dr. J. Ottis Sayes.

FACULTY

Dr. Leslie Parrott

President of the College

THE OLIVET ATTITUDE ... a feeling we get

Even strangers coming on the campus of Olivet Nazarene College talk about a feeling they get which is hard to explain. I have heard this from visiting speakers, accreditation committees, and even tradesmen working in the buildings. Bill Gaither mentioned it at the close of his concert here last fall.

What is this feeling people get?

And where does it come from?

The floors are clean. The windows are washed. Paintings are on the walls. But that is not it.

Faculty and students attend chapel with readiness to listen. Speakers almost always talk about how reverent chapel is.

The campus is adequate and well groomed. At night the lights on the estate fence glow atop the symmetrical pillars along Olivet Street. But these symbols of care and concern for our environment are not what people feel.

What guests sense on this campus is an attitude. It's the Olivet attitude. It's the united combined, corporate way of thinking which dominates relationships, decision making and social interaction on this campus.

It's courtesy.

It's awareness.

It's the concern by the President and the Student Council for the quality of life at Olivet.

It's the desire for students to be a cut above students on other campuses.

It's redeeming the way we live, how we dress, and the seriousness we give to our studies.

It's living out the twin priorities of the library and the chapel as a central focus of symbolic concern on campus.

It's the attention of the dean of students and the business manager to have a better food service! not a cheaper one.

It's the concern of the academic dean to integrate fine arts into Christian faith and learning, and to support the director of development in equipping high-quality students to represent Olivet now, and in the expanding corps of loyal alumni who are spread all over the world.

Olivet drop-outs do not always catch this spirit. But students who see it through for four years and graduate take something special away from this campus: a diploma in their hands, a structure of learning in their heads, and the embodiment of the Olivet attitude in their hearts.

This Olivet attitude is the personification of our slogan: "Education with a Christian Purpose."

Division of Education and Psychology

The various departments within the Division of Education and Psychology are all concerned with human behavior. This division of the college devotes itself to areas of study such as, aiding students in understanding human behavior through participation in the classroom experience, and promoting physical development through athletics.

The main goal of the Department of Education is the development of a well prepared teacher. The department is especially attentive to the prospective teachers' habits, attitudes, skills, and personal abilities. Understanding human behavior is the primary objective of the department of Psychology. This department trains students to meet the needs of people, both personally and professionally. The Physical Education Department promotes sportsmanship, competition and recreation. Perception and skills are also developed through active participation.

Division of Nursing

The nursing process is a series of actions assisting individuals, families, and communities in promoting, maintaining and restoring health. Application of the nursing process uses intellectual, interpersonal, and technical skills. The nursing student formulates a nursing theory from her understanding of God, man, environment and self. A new course, the R.N. Completion Program, will be offered during the 1980 school year. Community experiences are also offered in areas of pre-natal care, day care, and post-partum. Nursing is a dynamic interaction between the nurse and the individual throughout the life cycle. The Division of Nursing prepares nurses who will work to improve health care delivery, provides a basis for increasing responsibility and leadership, and provides a foundation for continuing personal and professional development.

Division of Language and Literature

The Division of Language and Literature includes the Departments of English Language and Literature, Foreign Languages and Literature, and Speech Communications.

The English Department acquaints students with many of the great literary works, familiarizes him with the development of his language and linguistic processes, and develops his critical and analytical powers.

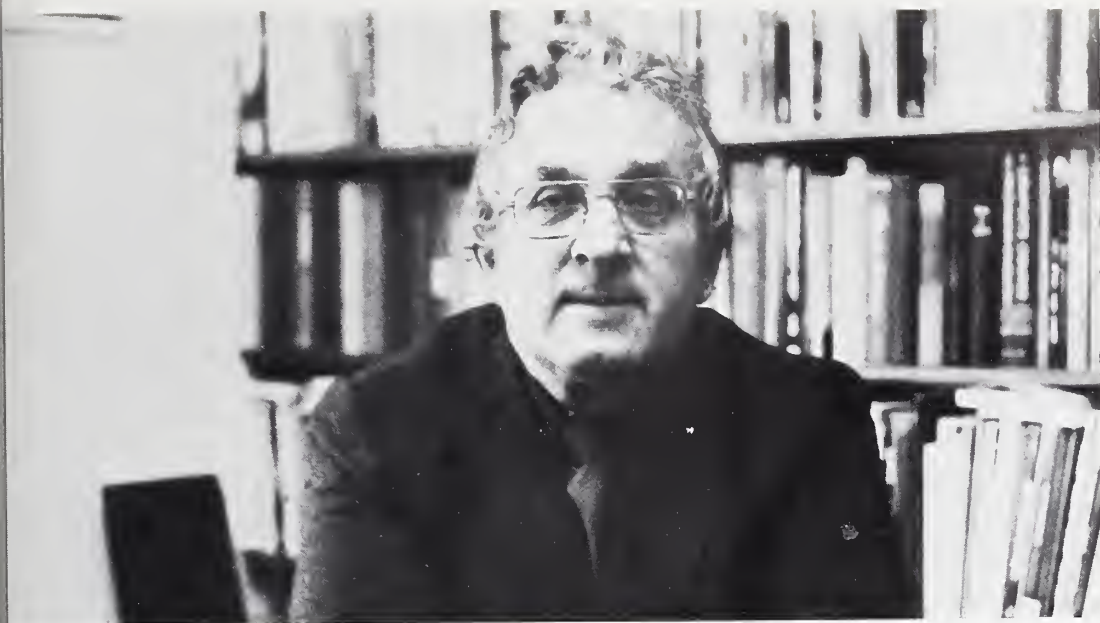

The Foreign Languages Department wishes to develop in students the ability to comprehend, speak, read, and write the Romance Languages.

Courses in the Speech Communication Department cover both the scientific and artistic aspects of speech. Developing a skill in expression will better equip the student for a position of leadership and will prepare specially qualified students in speech communication.

Three main objectives of the Division of Languages and Literature are: to provide training in the effective use of the English language, both written and spoken; to enlarge the cultural background of the student through a study of foreign language and literature; and to provide experience in relating the literary masterpieces to the social, religious, and political ideals of the peoples involved. 5

Division of Natural Science

The Division of Natural Sciences is comprised of the Departments of Biological Sciences, Chemistry, Earth and Space Sciences, Mathematics and Computer Science, and Physics. This Division stresses the harmonious relationship between the creation and the creator by supporting scientific studies with the fundamental belief in God's power.

The Department of Biological Sciences is arranged naturally according to levels of organization. Each level (molecular, individual, population and community) is related to the biological student, providing a wealthy background of understanding for the individual's own academic specialty. Courses in the Department of Chemistry include both a knowledge of chemical analysis covering a variety of techniques and laboratory skills devoted to chemical properties.

The Department of Earth and Space Sciences presents a view of the earth and universe in light of modern science that is relative to our religious beliefs.

Students in the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science are provided with a computer center enabling them to put to use the information learned in classes. The Department attempts to provide understanding of the historical development, deductive nature, and contemporary progress of mathematics and computer science.

The Department of Physics emphasizes the application of principles and laws to research.

As a whole, the Division of Natural Sciences endeavors to integrate the aims of the various departments with Biblical teaching, thus providing a well rounded education for students in the Natural Sciences.

Division of Religion and Philosophy

The Departments of Biblical Literature, Christian Education, Philosophy, and Theology comprise the Division of Religion and Philosophy. The primary objective of this division is to prepare ministerial and lay students alike for a life of Christian service in today's church and community. The professors of Christian Education endeavor to develop a sense of responsibility for evangelism. Sharing one's faith is also viewed as a means of growth in each person's Christian experience. Through Biblical literature, the students are led into an intelligent interpretation of the Bible as the foundation of our faith. This study helps them to make practical applications to Christian doctrine, experience, and life. Theology cultivates a fuller appreciation of the doctrines of the church through a more adequate knowledge of their origin, development, and historical importance. The application of Christian principles is accented by the Department of Philosophy. Through philosophical study, the meaning of "Education with a Christian Purpose" comes alive for each student. 7

Division of Fine Arts

The Division of Fine Arts offers instruction to those with an interest in art or music. Dr. Harlow Hopkins is chairman of the department. It also instills a basic appreciation of the arts to all students, which is necessary for a well rounded education.

A major interest in the division now is the new building for the fine arts. It will be situated between Burke and Reed. Hopes are that the building will have its dedication in 1982. Plans were underway for the new building in December.

The Music Department, headed by Professor Harlow Hopkins, had 104 students claiming a major in music first semester. This is the highest figure so far. According to Professor Hopkins, "The new major in church music and Christian education is attracting quite a number of students this year." The four musical groups including the Vikings, Treble Clef, Orchestra and Orpheus Choir, have gone on three weekend tours this year.

The Art Department, headed by Professor Harvey Collins, had many students who claimed a major in art first semester. Professor James Thompson is a new member in the department this year.

Division of Social Sciences

The Division of Social Sciences consists of four departments. These are the department of Sociology and Anthropology, History and Political Science, Business, and Home Economics.

The chairman of the Division is Joseph Neilson. The purpose of the division is to instill in the student an interest in the social sciences. It also helps to provide a basic knowledge of past and present social institutions and their practices in our present society.

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology is headed by Joseph Nielson. It offers classes about relationships in differently structured societies. It also deals with world problems and why they exist.

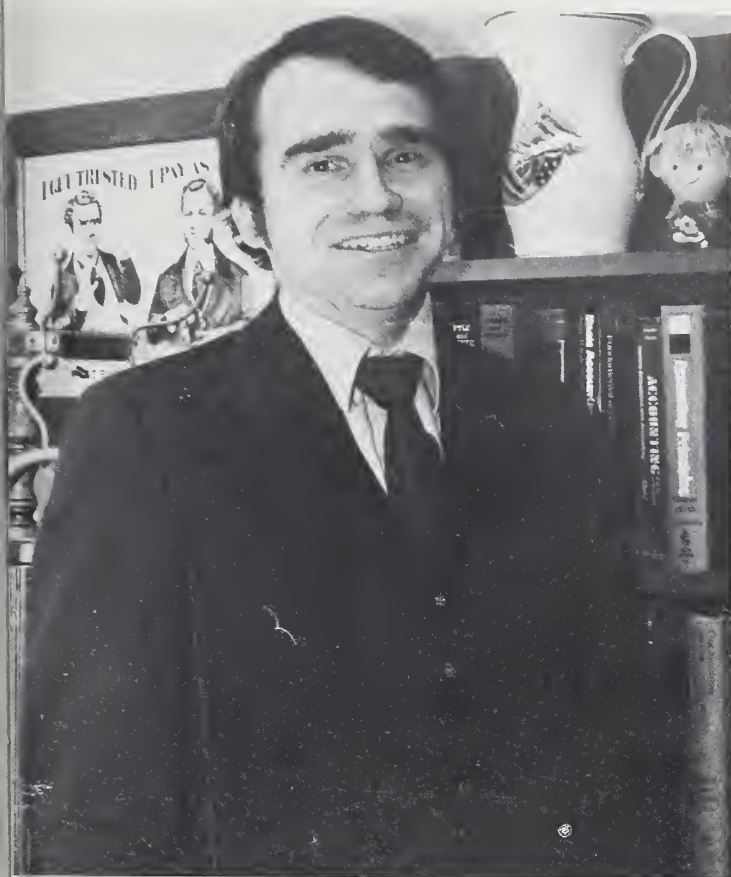

Willis E. Snowbarger is chairman of the Department of History and Political Science. The Department draws attention to past and present and places them in their correct historical perspective. It covers the history of other nations as well as our own cultures and historical feats in America. The state and federal governments are also covered.

The Business Department has Leonard E. Anderson as its chairman. Its purpose is to make students aware of the procedures in the business and economic forces. Anyone considering a career in ministry, management, insurance, small private businesses, or other related fields needs a basic knowledge in this field.

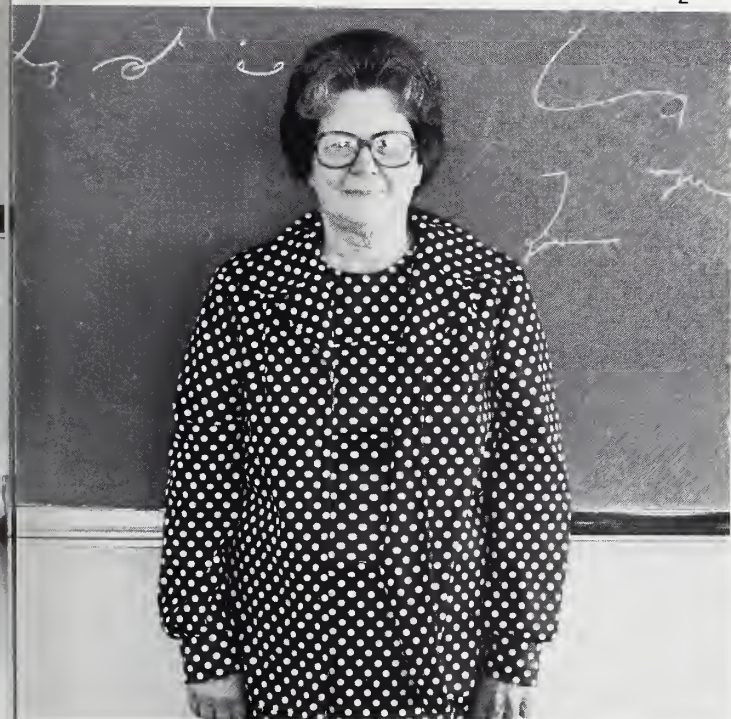

Rubalee Wickland is the chairman of the Department of Home Economics. It deals with many areas of economics such as interior design, nutrition, home management, dietetics, disease control, as well as cooking, sewing, and cleaning. This year the Home Economics group went on a three week trip to Europe during January interim. Some of their stops were Paris, Wales, London and Versailles. Visiting castles, tasting foreign cuisine, and visiting fashion houses were included in the tour.

Division of Library Science

Benner Library and Resource Center, under the direction of Allen Wiens, houses a variety of media and provides the latest in resource materials. It has the capacity for 145,000 volumes and seating for 650. It also provides 115,000 accessioned volumes, a non-book collection including microforms and microfiche, maps, pamphlets and a steady flow of periodicals. The library staff is willing and helpful. Together the staff and the resources provide the information helpful to every student's education. Their aim is to provide an atmosphere which is conducive to study and research.

Resident Directors and Assistants

With only one returning resident director, Mary Reed, the dorms and apartments have been introduced to new faces who are in charge of each resident hall. These responsible persons give time, talent, and energy to keeping the atmosphere of our living quarters in comfortable order.

Aiding the R.D.'s are their resident assistants, (R.A.'s) who are students that willingly spend time in their rooms to help meet the needs of the students as well as keep things under control. They are concerned students who have proven themselves to be very understanding and helpful.

CHAPTER 2

Graduation in May Springs to Life

The graduating class of 1979 came together a final time for the annual Commencement exercises. Spring had arrived, making Memorial Day a beautiful time for the solemn ceremony.

Friends who had experienced years of work, success, failures, joys, and growth together are now separated by many miles, but the memories of college life will remain.

For the weekend of April 20-21, 1979, parents visited Olivet to see "what really goes on at college." But instead of textbooks, laundry, and Saga lunches, the weekend was filled with activities planned to provide a welcome reprieve from the rigors of studies. Among the events was the Drama Club's performance of Molier's "The Imaginary Invalid," starring Daniel Behr and Penny Ricky, and directed by Janice Sarver and Prof. Stephen Vanciel. There was also a Sunday breakfast with guest speakers who emphasized relationships within the family and a large evening banquet attended by students and their parents.

Play Highlights Parent Weekend

1. 1978-79 Student body president Steve Johnson was given the Outstanding Citizen Award
2. Leo Adams and Ed Drake threaten to leave Argan in "The Imaginary Invalid."
3. Students participate in the processional march to commencement.
4. Dr. Kale, Professor Moore, and Professor Toland congratulate Bonnie Greene on receiving the Outstanding Citizen Award
5. Dr. Leslie Parrott addresses the graduating class during the baccalaureate service.
6. Daniel Behr as Argan groans under the administrations of the 17th century physicians portrayed by Mike Cook and Scott Fulton.
7. Terry Hodge and Daron Nance portray love at first sight while Penny Ricky as Toinette looks on.

1. Brad Cluver, Cyndi Fox, Daryl Nelson, and Pam Slonecker anticipate the starting signal for the tire roll.
2. Ted Wozniak dashes for a touchdown.
3. Senior girls give it all they've got in the tug of war.
4. Al Jackson tries to squeeze by in the flag football game.
5. The audience is charmed by Daron Nance at the talent contest.
6. Danielle Ainley demonstrates Freshman class spirit.
7. Charging full speed ahead in the shopping cart race is Dorothy Heise and John Hay.

Students Run, Slurp, and Spit During Ollies Follies

The school year had barely begun before the annual Ollies Follies brought the student body together for a day of fun. Racing with shopping carts, slurping root beer, and spitting watermelon seeds were only a few of the games that pitted the classes against each other. The activities continued until evening with a talent contest won by Venice McBettes for her dramatic reading of "The Creation." When the points accumulated from the day's activities were tallied, the over-all award was given to the Junior class.

Follies Have Purpose

Ollies Follies is a grand tradition at Olivet. The competition between classes ranges from serious to silly, from football to jello slurp. But, there is a purpose to all the diverse activity. It gives the students an opportunity to get together at the start of the school year. Ollies Follies is a time of exercise, fun and action. It is a time for renewing old friendships and making new friends.

Life Forms in Dorms

Alarms buzz, ring, and beep, showers steadily beat, and rows of toothbrushes move in alternate rhythms in the early hours of another day. Soon people are moving in and out from breakfast, classes, lunch, more classes, and finally dinner. John Records Landecker, Chicago's WLS DJ, competes with FM stereo and music of all tastes and volumes. Open books, headaches, popcorn, pizza grinders, and traffic in the halls mark the beginning of study hours, and only the chorus of snores tells that the alarms are set once again to begin another day.

Red Room Enlivens Night Life

Under the pretense of studying, students gathered in the Red Room for a variety of reasons. Socializing, playing games, and eating allowed the students time to relax and enjoy college life. The popularity of pizza grinders was shown by the addition of a baby grinder, increasing the Red Room's business even more.

1. Dorm meetings are always very popular among the students.
2. The Red Room is not only popular for socializing, but also for studying.
3. Mark Boyce keeps the lines of communication open.
4. There is always someone there when you come home.
5. Is Craig Crombar beginning another all-nighter?
6. A desk is good for more than just studying.
7. Uno is one of the most popular games in the Red Room.
8. Dallas Mucci and Mike Conway relax and enjoy some pizza.

Ladies Take Initiative During Twirp Week

Twirp Week brought about a change of pace for students. Sponsored by WRA, young ladies picked up their men and the check for the evening. Planned activities kept the couples involved with rollerskating at Skateland, taffy pulling in Ludwig Cafeteria, Dan Peek, Reba Rambo, Ron Hudson concerts, and the annual slave sale.

- 1 Rev. and Mrs. Lee take part in the fun at Skateland.
- 2 Vernon Horner and Angie Davisson stick it out through the taffy pull
3. Steve Short, Dino DeRose, Keith Peachey, Joe Nugent, and Steve Humerickhouse wait patiently for their chance to bid
4. Steve Whitteberry and Diane Miller join in a romantic couples' skate.
5. Jana Friend brings a high price at the slave sale.
6. Dan Peek strums his guitar in harmony with his mellow vocals.

ONC Clubs Expand Membership

The annual Club Day demonstrated the ingenuity of various organizations in attempting to gain new members. Success honored their efforts since many clubs reported increases in membership. Because of the intriguing variety of club displays, many students joined these clubs whose aim is to provide social and intellectual opportunities for members. The Drama Club and Spiritual Life were awarded prizes for their uniquely designed displays.

Variety Show Earns Applause

The crowd's reluctance to leave demonstrated the excellence of the fifth annual Orpheus Variety Show. Beginning with a majestic patriotic opening, the show provided an evening of unique presentations. Diverse acts, including lyrical songs, instrumentals, and popular comedy skits combined to create an evening of exceptional entertainment.

1. Daron Nance peeks from backstage.
2. Jim Leston signs up students for the many outreach groups of spiritual life.
3. Rose Birdsong aids Jim Hudson in joining Circle K.
4. Christie Toland, Patricia Bick, Sylvia Freeman, and Denise Stiles brew up a song.
5. Donna Dikeman explains why Jeff Crabtree and Sim Rogers must join MRA, not WRA.
6. Alan Nelson represents Ministerial fellowship.
7. Angie Futtrell, Geron Vantine, and Susan Mundy are in their Second Child Hood during the Variety Show.
8. Mark Burchfield plays his rendition of Herb Alpert's "Rise."

1. Paul Fiorenza, Randy Frazier, and Jeff Tharp assist Russ Leigh in a shave and haircut.
2. A ghoul rocks on the front porch, waiting for unsuspecting visitors.
3. Jeff Crosno prowls through "The House."
4. Tim Hess lounges in chains.
5. Beth Langford and Dan Dorsey make a bewitching pair.
6. Barb Cain — "the victim."

Vampires, convicts, monsters, and other unusual characters haunted the dorms while they were trick-or-treating. After their goodie-bags were filled, the creatures were invited to a party sponsored by the Freshman Class. Games included a pumpkin carving contest and "caramel apples" that were actually caramel covered onions. The Best Decorated Floor Award was given to Fourth Floor Williams, while the Mice Squad and Box Car Babies were chosen as having the most unique costumes.

Parade Draws Shivering Crowds

Huddled on street corners and crouched on curbs, people braved the chilly morning to see the Homecoming parade weave through the streets of Bradley and Bourbonnais up to the Olivet campus. Horns blared as clowns skipped and bicycled along the side of a variety of floats. Prizes were awarded to the Business Club and the Senior Class for their outstanding floats, while a lighthouse constructed by the Ministerial Fellowship was judged to be the all-around best.

1. Darrell Nelson goes up for a jump shot.
2. "The Light of the World" captures highest honors.
3. Darryl Wellman wishes luck to his opponent.
4. Olivet Marching Band premiers at Homecoming.
5. Rick Johnson --- or Groucho Marx?
6. President Parrot congratulates Don Barr with the team's first place trophy.
7. Stan Adler appears to be in control of his foe.

Murder Lurks on Stage

Terror and suspense on homecoming weekend? The large audiences attending Agatha Christie's thriller, "The Mousetrap," were entranced and bewildered as they watched eight boarding guests confront murder with no means of escape. The dramatic roles were skillfully executed by Denise Bergers, Rob Conaway, Ed Drake, Marcia Hendrickson, Bryan Kirby, Judie Parker, Mike Rowe, and Bob Wisneski.

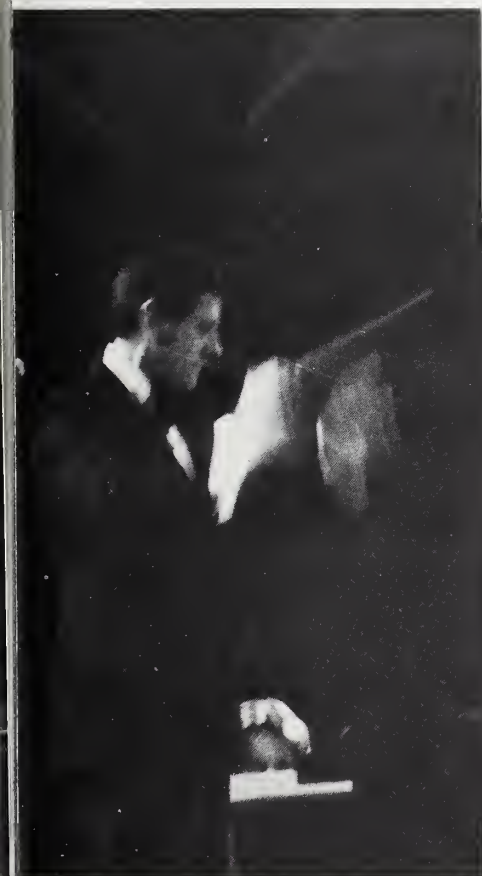

Talents Blend in Tune

A variety of musical performances supplemented Homecoming weekend. The Sacred Music Concert brought together the talents of the Orpheus Choir, Treble Clef Choir, Viking Male Chorus and Concert Band in a collage of delightful selections. The College Orchestra and Alumni Choir presented the Pops Concert. The concert was highlighted by Ovid Young who received a standing ovation for his piano performance of Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue".

1. Bryan Kirby exclaims that the crime will be solved.
2. Ed Drake arrives at the fateful inn.
3. The Viking Male Chorus opens the Sacred Music Concert.
4. Marcia Hendrickson evaluates the murder situation.
5. Bryan acts on his suspicions.
6. Dr. Harlow Hopkins conducts the band and choirs in "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God."
7. The Treble Clef Choir performs exceptionally well under the new direction of Miss Marla Kenney.

Fall Revival Features Dr. C. William Fisher

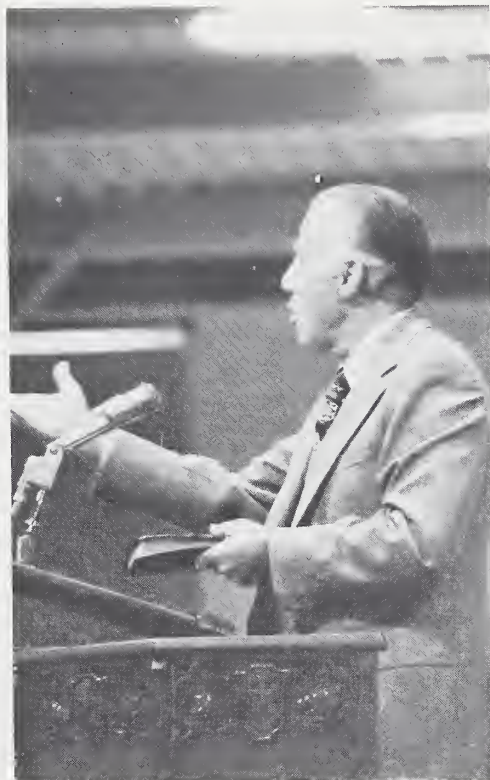

Dr. C. William Fisher was the evangelist for Olivet's Fall Revival, held October 23-28. Dr. Fisher was the voice of the Church of the Nazarene on the radio program Showers of Blessings for many years. He was well received by the Olivet community. Dr. Fisher spoke on a wide variety of areas in the Christian's life throughout the services, which were held every morning and evening. Harlan and Barbie Moore, music directors at College Church, were the song evangelists.

Chapel Supplements Education

At 9:45 a.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, Chalfant Hall echoed with the scraping of chairs as nearly 2,000 people came from different directions to share in worship. This year vocalists and speakers of varied talents and purposes were featured, including Dr. C. W. Fisher, Dr. Kenneth Pearsall, Dr. Charles Shaver, Miss Ann Kiemel, and Dr. Terrel Sanders. There were also special chapel services honoring seniors, the AURORA, and the GLIMMERGLASS

1. Luci Shaw shares her views on sanctified imagination.

2. The fall revival is led by Dr. C. W. Fisher.

3. Dr. Fisher and President Parrott enjoy fellowship during revival.

4. Among the many singing groups that perform for chapel services are the Concert Singers.

5. Debbie Salter, the editor of BREAD magazine, explains that "everything can be new."

Gaither Trio's Variety Excites a Capacity Crowd

One of the highlights of the fall semester was a concert by the Bill Gaither Trio on Friday, November 30. The trio consisted of Bill and Gloria Gaither and Gary McSpadden. The Gaithers performed music ranging from the familiar "Something Beautiful" to the contemporary upbeat sound of "We Are Persuaded." Don Francisco, a soloist who travels with the group, also delighted the audience with his different type of music. Don takes bible stories and with the aid of his guitar tells them through music. Don takes Bible stories and with concert was a song by the Gaither children, Amy and Benji. Half of the proceeds were generously donated toward the completion of the Larsen Fine Arts Center. Not only will the incomparable talent and skill of the Trio long be remembered, but also their total devotion to Jesus Christ as displayed through their spirit and song.

2. The Gaithers' back-up is a group of talented young people given a chance to sing and witness for the Lord.
3. Singing is the Gaithers' best testimony.
4. Gloria sings one of her husband's compositions written especially for children, "My Father's Angels."
5. The incredible talent of Bill Gaither is matched only by the dedication of the entire group.
6. The electric keyboard is only one part of Gaither's accompaniment.

1. Dan Peek, formerly of the rock group America, expresses in song his newfound relationship with Christ.
2. The Archers' popularity is accredited to their unique sound.
3. Steve, Janice, and Tim — the Archers.
4. An exciting glow radiates from the face of Reba Rambo.
5. Dan Peek shows his ability as a Christian singer and pianist.
6. Performing for students is Ron Hudson from Venezuela.
7. Tim Archer gets excited for the Lord.

Variety Is the Essence of Fall Concerts

Olivet hosted many fine concerts during the fall semester that were sponsored by various organizations. Chalfant Hall was crowded many times as students sought a break from studies with good entertainment. Featured in concerts were the performers Dan Peek, Reba Rambo, Ron Hudson, and the Archers.

Annual Banquet Portrays Christmas Spirit

Many hours of hard work on Ludwig Center by the Social Committee resulted in "Portraits of Christmas," this year's Christmas banquet, breaking the tradition of holding it in Chalfant Hall.

Elaborate decorations, including many live pine trees, adorned Ludwig as it was transformed into an exquisite restaurant. Excellent dining and entertainment were included in a "Portraits of Christmas."

Hale and Wilder Entertain at Interim

During interim the famous duo of Robert Hale and Dean Wilder conducted a workshop for Olivet's aspiring young vocalists. They also presented a concert of various styles of music, a combination of operatic, contemporary, and sacred solos and duets. The audience was also treated to a special piano solo by accompanist Stephen Nielson.

1. Playing the bass in the orchestra is Mark Burchfield.
2. Hale and Wilder sing to the music of Stephen Nielson.
3. Senior Tony Fightmaster sings in his last performance of the Messiah.
4. Sandra Harris demonstrates her talent as one of the soprano soloists.
5. Choral Union traditionally performs the Messiah.
6. Robert Hale and Dean Wilder combine their talents in a unique sound.
7. As an opera soloist, Robert Hale is internationally known.

1. For the first time in years, students don't have to trudge through snowdrifts during interim.
2. Shirley French and Jerene Wright test their skills at backgammon.
3. The Red Room is a convenient place to relax.
4. A maintenance crew works hard during interim preparing for spring semester.
5. John Letanosky takes time for a study break.
6. Paul Roth, Paul Reisen, Geron Scates, and Lamont Deter spend a quiet evening in their apartment.
7. Sometimes studying seems useless.

Winter Surprises Interim

Students attending the January interim term of 1980 were rather warmly surprised. Like last year the main characteristic of interim talk was snow — but this year — the lack of it. The usual interim activities such as traying and snowball fights, not to mention snow-stuck cars and frozen noses, were dispensed with in favor of more spring-like activities. Temperatures soaring as high as 57° pleased almost everyone, except maybe skiers. More activities than in previous years were planned for the students: a concert by Robert Hale and Dean Wilder, a twirp weekend featuring a trip to Old Chicago, a candle-light steak dinner in the formal lounge, roller-skating, basketball games, and wrestling matches.

Bridge Concert Generates Enthusiasm

Bridge, a contemporary gospel music group, appeared in Chautant Hall on the cold winter night of February 18. Their music, ranging from hymns to the latest gospel sounds, gave them an unique "something-for-everybody" versatality. Many responded to the inspirational message of their songs during a closing alter call.

1. With his soft-spoken humor, Mr. Bob Benson captivates the audience.
2. "Higher Ground" is one of the favorites done by Bridge.
3. Barry Landis invites the audience to consecrate their lives to Jesus.
4. Mr. and Mrs. Dickerson meet with Bob Benson in President Parrott's office.
5. Each individual has talents to contribute to the quality sound of the group.
6. Bridge sings their own rendition of "Rise Again."
7. The Boston Marathon is a dream shared by Ann Keimel.
8. A cameraman catches a shot of President Parrott welcoming Ann to Olivet.

Spring Speakers Stimulate Chapel Audiences

Spring semester chapel services featured two prominent speakers, Mr. Bob Benson and Miss Ann Keimel. The Dickerson series is sponsored each year by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dickerson, alumni from Olivet who now live in Wichita, Kansas. This year's series, February 12-14, brought Bob Benson from Nashville, Tennessee, to speak to students and faculty. The simple truth that man does not choose God, but is himself chosen, was his profound topic. Miss Ann Keimel, well-known author and speaker, came to Olivet on February 19. In front of a capacity crowd and her crew of cameramen from Israel, she began, "Hi, I'm Ann. And I'm out to change my world, thus challenging each listener to change his world, however large or small it may be."

Imperials Rally Avid Fans

1. The title out from the newly released album "One More Song For You" was sung by Dave Will.
2. As with each member of the group, Russ Taff performs with devotion to the Lord.
3. "Living Without Your Love" highlights the talents of each member.
4. Jim Murray, Dave Will, Russ Taff, and Armond Morales continue to be Olivet's favorite gospel group.
5. During "Sail On," Jim Murray demonstrates how to use an "old, rare, Black Angus cowbell" given to him by "Mrs. Angus."
6. The Imperials were welcomed with an excitement that was generated throughout the entire concert.
7. Russ Taff expresses his personal feelings through the song "Praise the Lord."

Only two days after winning their third Grammy Award, the Imperials appeared in Chalfant Hall before a near-capacity crowd. The Imperials, the number one gospel group in America today, gave their most electrifying, inspirational and incredibly versatile concert ever. Their music appealed to the young and old alike, ranging from the pulsating West Indian rhythm of "Sail On" to the southern gospel sound of "Oh Buddha" to the pop ballad "One More Song For You." They shared their message not only through song but also by relating personal experiences. As Russ Taff gave his testimony and sang their hit, "New Creation," each person there was challenged to examine his own relationship with Christ. As the concert ended, the crowd rose to their feet and cheered until the group returned for an encore performance of "Water Grave" after which they received another enthusiastic standing ovation. These tremendously gifted musicians have a unique sound and are continually striving to meet the increasing needs of their audiences.

Two Seniors Study in Washington, D.C.

The fall semester of this year brought seniors Steven Chatham and David Eaton a momentous experience in our nation's capital. Through the Christian College Consortium, of which Olivet is a member, Steve and Dave were selected to this field study opportunity as participants of the American Studies program in Washington, D.C.

Graduating in May, 1980, Steven Chatham, a marketing/management major from Kansas City, Missouri, served as a staff member at the headquarters of Marketing General, Inc. This firm specializes in consultation for major associations within the United States. His responsibilities included data analysis, client consultation, package design of direct-response mailings, and other related marketing services. After graduation, Steve will begin work at Veterinary Laboratories, Inc. in the marketing/management position. Upon acquiring more experience, he intends to return to Washington, D.C. to begin graduate study in marketing. In concluding remarks Steve stated, "Being in Washington broadened my perspective to realize the need to integrate Christian faith within the decision-making process. God calls people to all facets of service within the political structure."

David Eaton, of Miami, Florida, majoring in Pre-Law will also be graduating from Olivet in May, 1980. He intends to enter law school immediately upon graduation with particular interest in taxation. While in Washington, Dave worked as Administrative Intern to U.S. Senator Lawton Chiles of Florida. His responsibilities included research in constituent-related casework, responding to the Senator's religious-oriented mail, and drafting committee hearing synopses for the legislative staff dealing with SALT. Dave indicated that the Washington encounter gave him a new perspective on political involvement: "The passive, unquestioned, totally-acceptant thought pattern regarding government has no place in the mind of a Christian. My capacity to challenge and sort through the moral and spiritual implications relating to political issues must be exploited to the fullest extent."

David Eaton

GROUPS

Aurora

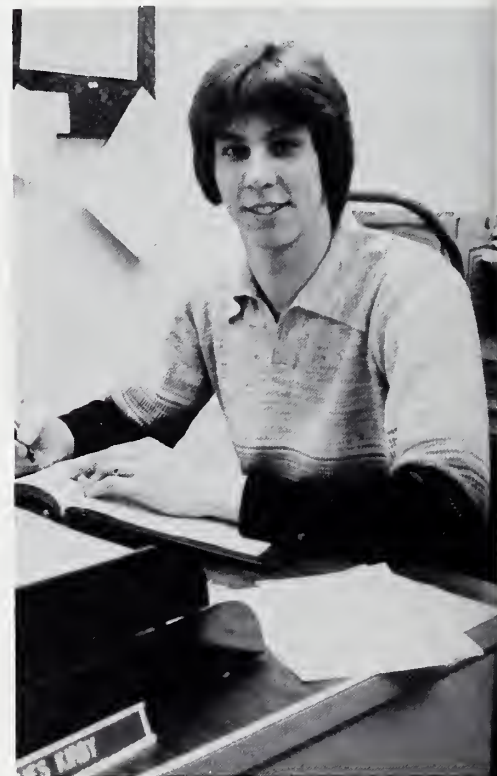

The AURORA staff is a group of talented, dedicated, and ambitious people. Not only do they work hard, but they tire easily. This is not to say that they do not deserve to tire easily, for the AURORA is produced through many hours of work by many individuals. Creative designing of the graphics and layouts for the 1980 AURORA began early in the spring of 1979. The summer brought a complete renovation of the advertising and financing programs.

The entire organizational structure of the yearbook was adjusted to accommodate the position of Ads Section editor and to make better use of the individual abilities of the staff members. The 1980 AURORA operated under an accelerated production schedule. For this reason the editor provided all the section editors with a page by page description of each printing deadline. This has been a year of growth for the organization and its members.

1. The editor of the 1980 AURORA, Daniel Behr, worked toward a high level of involvement and strong organization for both the production schedule and the staff structure.

2. Ads section: Front Row, Angie Cripe, Teresa Vore, Beth Langford, section editor. Back Row, Brian Kirby, Jim Cundiff.

3. James Kirby brought a strong background in business and accounting into the office of Business Manager. He held the reins on the largest AURORA budget.

4. Photography Staff. Kneeling, Craig Crombar, Brian Shindle, head photographer, Mardee McSwain. Standing, Brad Buzenski, Dave Cozad, Debbie Felt, Tom Deckard, Don Robbins, Mark Reader, Karen Cannon, Darrell Crawford, Tim Rickel, Tim Wiens.

5. Marcy Hawley typing on the all too familiar quad-pak.

6. Gloria Wickham worked as layout and copy editor as part of her duties as assistant editor.

7. The AURORA advisor, Dr. Larry Finger, provides invaluable service to the yearbook in innumerable ways.

9. Brian Shindle conducted the photography department with new organization and professionalism. He made many improvements in the darkroom facilities.

Spiritual Life Expresses Christ

Spiritual Life is the campus organization which gives a student a tangible means of expressing what Jesus has done in his life. In participating in the programs students learn what it is to forget about themselves for awhile, and turn their attentions to the needs of others. Gospel Crusaders is the program which ministers to our own church, Brian Shindle, head of travel to churches on the Olivet educational zone to conduct youth weekends, and other types of revival services.

Media Ministries falls under the same category, with the exception of the way that it presents the message of Christ. While G.C.'s takes a more traditional approach, Media Ministries ministers through puppet shows, slide presentations, plays, and other types of drama.

Aware is the program which involves all of the students of Olivet in a drive to raise money for those less fortunate than ourselves. The mission project for this year was raising money to aid the European Nazarene Bible College in its teaching facilities; helping a few people so that they may help many.

Evangelism is a community oriented program. The members visit youth detention centers, the county jail, nursing homes, a mental ward and other areas, all which represent human need. Some of the people reached by Evangelism will be getting their first real look at someone that really cares for them as a person.

On Campus Ministries is the final aspect of Spiritual Life. It seeks to facilitate better worship and devotional patterns in students. On Campus Ministries emphasizes priorities in individuals' lives that must be present if the person is going to be a minister in any position in life.

ASG Concentrates on Problem Solving

The two purposes of the Associated Student Government are representation and service. Student Council, with the direction of President, John Duncan, fulfilled these purposes. The ASG represented the student body by receiving a firm promise for more street lights around ONC and other campus changes. Some of the services they gave were sponsoring social events, all away basketball games on WKOC, and the Bill Gothard Seminar. This year the ASG concentrated on solving everyday problems to make the campus better.

The Women's Residents Association, under the leadership of Sue Deaton, had a good year. Each semester the Association sponsored Twirp Week, and this year added the new January term Twirp Weekend. Homecoming Coronation was fall semester's big event, while spring brought Parent Weekend, co-sponsored with MRA. Prayer breakfasts, Seminars, a garage sale, and a marathon were new in the WRA's list of events.

The Men's Residents Association was busy this year with some old favorites and some new activities. The MRA, under the leadership of Lamont Deter, sponsored a ski trip and a canoe trip as well as co-sponsoring Parent Weekend. The Association sponsored the annual Ping Pong and Foose Ball Tournaments. This year they also sponsored Andress Blackwood & Company Concert, Christian Athletes, and a men's prayer breakfast.

Glimmerglass Adds Color

The GLIMMERGLASS completed its 39th year as the newspaper that reflects student and community life at Olivet. Editor Barb Cain and staff members worked together to produce thirteen issues of the GLIMMERGLASS, which included relevant news items, features a campus news brief column, devotional insights by a variety of writers, and ads with valuable discounts and coupons in each issue. The Paper also featured an expanded sports section, including many Photos and regular Tiger Spotlights on individual athletes. Also, the paper was made more attractive with the addition of spot color in many of the issues.

Drama Club Entertains

This was an active year for the Drama Club. Under the leadership of President Janice Sarver and Prof. Stephen Vanciel, the bigger-than-ever club sponsored the Homecoming Play, Agatha Christie's "The Mousetrap," and a Spring play. The club's booth also won second place on Club Day. This year the group strove for re-organization by writing a new constitution.

Circle K Reaches Out

Circle K is a national organization of college students working in alliance with Kiwanis Club. The members of Circle K tutor and provide guidance to elementary children. Activities are planned throughout the year for the children and tutors. This year the club, under President Mark Blackburn, saw the purchase of a new station wagon for transportation of the tutors to the elementary schools of the area. Circle K sponsors the Blood Mobile and participates in fund raising activities for the Kiwanis Club.

Business Club Plans for Future

The purposes of the Business Club is: to stimulate interest in the business world; to aid in determining a future career; to recognize outstanding leadership in business and industry by inviting representatives of various firms to speak to the club; to engage in individual and group projects of a business nature; to develop leadership for business and business education and to inform the members of current business happenings and trends. Highlights of this year's club included the winning float for clubs in the Homecoming parade, a fall picnic and the creation of an annual Outstanding Business Person Award.

Clubs Promote Academics

In the fall, Sigma Tau Delta, the honor society for English majors and minors invited Luci Shaw, a brilliant poet and speaker to Olivet's campus. During January interim, several members enriched their learning experiences by a 15-day tour of Great Britain.

A.P.E.S., the pet-name of the Association of Physics and Engineering Students, provided various activities and social fellowship for students interested in physics or engineering. A Fall picnic kicked off the activities which included many films and special guest lecturers throughout the school year.

Ministerial Fellowship Fights Apathy

Ministerial Fellowship is an organization for those preparing for full-time Christian service. The goal of this 100 member club is to minister to the Olivet community. This year the club has worked hard to keep down "religious apathy." They have sponsored many activities such as a campus prayer breakfast, a trip to Kansas City, and nightly radio devotionals on WKOC.

Clubs Cultivate Interest

The International Club is an organization designed to promote international understanding. This year the club included members from Micronesia, Antigua, Africa, Guiana, Trinidad, The Bahamas, Singapore, Scotland, Canada and India.

The Home Economics Club has sponsored many activities for the persons in the home economics field. Seminars and workshops of instructional enlightenment were featured. Other highlights included a nighttime boat ride on the Chicago River, the Homecoming Style Show, and a Christmas banquet at Mother McGee's restaurant. The second semester activities included a tobogganing trip and the annual brunch.

WKOC provides a "gentle sound" for the Olivet community. The station gives communication students an opportunity to familiarize themselves with radio operations.

Women's "O" Club was organized to promote interest and participation in women's intercollegiate sports, and to provide fellowship for women with common interests. Women are invited to join upon earning a letter in cheerleading or an intercollegiate sport. The club's activities consist primarily of purchasing equipment for women's athletics, and occasionally sponsoring a school activity. This year, one of the activities provided was a "Bridge" concert.

New Directors Assume Positions

Viking and Treble Clef choirs experienced a changing of directors. Prof. Joe Noble departed Treble Clef and took over the Viking Male Chorus and Prof. Marla Kensey replaced him. Under the direction of these professors, both choirs enjoyed the Fall and Spring tours around the educational district. A Spring concert featured both choirs in an on-campus performance. Treble Clef also was invited to participate in the General Assembly in Kansas City, Missouri.

Orpheus Choir and Concert Band Travel Extensively

"Ministry in Song" was the theme of Orpheus Choir this year. Under the direction of Dr. George Dunbar, the sixty-seven voice choir once again was Olivet's ambassador around the United States. Besides preparing for the entertaining variety show, Orpheus traveled extensively during the year. An Indiana fall tour was followed by the second appearance of the choir at the Gaither Praise Gathering in Indianapolis. A trip to California allowed Orpheus to sing at Pt. Loma College and a few churches on the West Coast, along with a little relaxing and sight-seeing before returning for second semester and the preparation for the Spring tour.

Olivet's Concert Band, under the able baton of Dr. Harlow Hopkins, spent much time in preparation for performing in June at General Assembly in Kansas City. But the mastery of instrumental music was displayed all year by the band in the annual Homecoming concert and in the Christmas chapel concert. Fall and spring tours provided the band the opportunity of visiting many churches and acquainting themselves with the people who support them and Christian education.

Quartets and Trios Sing With Personal Touch

Every summer Olivet sends groups of students out to sing God's praise across our educational zone. These men's quartets and ladies' trios, who also travel weekends during the year, represent the college through their witness in music. As small groups, these students are able to minister on a more personal basis than our large choirs. The "public relations" groups are an important part of the outreach of Olivet.

The Tigers began their football season in the best way imaginable on September 9, 1979, by defeating rival Illinois Benedictine College by a score of 39-7. The victory evoked particular pleasure from players and fans who remembered getting beaten by IBC exactly one year before. With the bleachers packed and spirits running high, the Tigers appeared tense at the start of the game. After fumbling the ball away on its first two possessions, Olivet saw the early lead of 0-7 go to IBC. But then the Tigers went into action. Jeff Habedank completed 8 of 14 passes for a total of 109 yards, to receivers Randy Tumblin, Phil Zell, Dino DeRose, and Bill McElroy. Adding four team records in the game, Olivet scored 39 points, 6 total touchdowns, 3 rushing touchdowns, and, to add salt to the IBC wounds, 4 fumbles resulting in lost balls. Despite the four opportunities given to IBC, the Tigers showed the material of which Olivet athletes are made.

Football In Fourth Season

The Tiger Gridders, in this their fourth year, displayed skills and talent representative of Olivet athletics. Finishing the season with a record of 6-3, the Tigers found themselves in the position of becoming a force to be reckoned with. As a result of the experience gained during the first four years of football at Olivet, the team worked together to unite in a common effort with an ease which comes only with time. This year was a year of "firsts": the first year home games were played on the C. W. "Butch" Ward Field; the first year that Olivet was in line for the play-offs; and the first year that an Olivet gridder was given an All-American Honorable Mention. Losing seven seniors to graduation, the Tigers are anticipating reinforcement via recruiting and strength through experience. The seven seniors are: Gary Berry, Mark Cook, Phil Link, Dave Rice, Jesse Soulia, Randy Tumblin, and Phil Zell.

Tigers Go 6-3

The Olivet Nazarene College Tigers are a team with talent, a team with the potential to "take the conference." Led this year by captains Phil Zell, Randy Tumblin, Phil Link, and Jesse Soulia, the gridgers displayed remarkable abilities. Voted the team's Most Valuable Players were: Jeff Habedank, offensive back; Steve Sanders, offensive line; Phil Link, defensive back; and Kent Coffey, defensive line. Named to the District # 20 First Team were Phil Link, Phil Zell, and Kent Coffey, and named with Honorable Mentions were Jeff Habedank, Terry Pennington, and Jeff Messier. Phil Link was named Player of the Week for District #20 and was the first Olivet gridder to be given an All-American Honorable Mention. Displaying the experience evident in the 1979 season were the four-year lettermen: Phil Link, Jesse Soulia, Terry Pennington, and Mark Cook. The statistics prove what is common knowledge at Olivet: the Tiger Football Team is on its way to the top!

1. The Olivet defense, putting pressure on the ball carrier, once again does its job.
2. Bob Loudin — the expectancy following the kick.
3. Jeff Habedank goes out and around for a gain.
4. Bringing the man down; not always the easiest task of the gridders.
5. A combined effort to "kill" the ball.

Olivet Soccer saw 1979 as a year of rebuilding and growth. Under the direction of Coach John Culp and Assistant Coach Jim Wohleber, new skills and experience were added to the team's assets. With an overall record of 2-12 in this their second season as an intercollegiate team, the Tigers displayed a playing ability which was in no way reflected by the statistics. The attitudes of determination and the discipline were nothing but the team's best. Voted Most Valuable Player, Senior Paul Reisen was also nominated to the All-Conference team. Dale Gibson, in his first year of Tiger Soccer, stood out as the team's most improved player. Losing seniors Phil Barnell, Jon Kring, and Paul Reisen to graduation, the team is relying on its increased experience and the possibility of talented recruits for another gaining year.

1. Prayer before each game keeps competition in the right perspective.
2. Brian Wilson prepares to head the ball away from an opponent.
3. Center forward Rick Johnson breaks away from a pack of defenders.
4. Halfbacks Dave Powell and Dale Gibson in a play to gain ball control.
5. Coach Culp and the bench evaluate a game from the sideline.
6. Fullback Phil Barnell demonstrates excellent defensive play.
7. Halfback Paul Riesen maneuvers through the crowd.

Wednesday, October 13, was a day of triumph when the Olivet Soccer Team defeated Trinity Christian College by a score of 3-0. From the start, Olivet consistently had control, yet failed to connect for a score. Breaking the streak, finally, was Jon Kring with a sharp angle shot. Following with goals were Brian Wilson and Dale Gibson to wrap up the game. Standing out on defense were Phil Barnell and Paul Reisen, as the team produced their second shut-out of the season. One main asset was the team's spirit. According to Coach Culp, other teams in the league had commented that the Tigers were constantly trying to do their best, no matter what the score was.

The Tiger basketball team, on November 30, 1979, showed North Central who was boss in a high scoring 111-95 win. Five Olivet players scored in double figures and the team shot 60 percent from the field, for the third win of the season. Led in scoring by Senior Al Jackson with 31 points, the remainder of the double figure scorers followed up: Pat Martin with 21, Daryl Nelson with 20, Don Barr with 14, and Gary Corzett with 12. Leading at halftime by a score of 55-44, Olivet continued its power streak throughout the game. Neither team was able to play an aggressive defense, as the referees called a tight game. Barr and Nelson fouled out, along with two North Central players, as 53 total fouls were called. Despite a lack of height and depth, the Tigers once again came through because, as the cheer puts it, "We've got a team that fights like Dynamite."

1. As the clock ticks away, a time of discussion is inevitable.
2. With all eyes on the ball, they're up for the tip.
3. Manipulating the ball, Al Jackson gets ready to start the play.
4. The team — rushing in for a final boost of spirit.
5. Don Barr, concentration evidenced in his eyes, drives past a George Williams guard.
6. With a split second preventing the block, Gary Corzett places the shot.
7. Gary Corzett with one of his "guaranteed" shots, a jump from the side.

3. The fast break — with Olivet leading the pack.
4. Jumping above his guard, Don Barr puts up the shot.
5. Al "Action" Jackson puts up an undefended jumper from the baseline.
6. The inflight battle for the ball.
7. Stretching through the air, Pat Martin puts the ball in motion for two.
8. Daryl Nelson pulls the ball back from a Judson player as he searches for an outlet.

Finishing the season with a 15-13 record, the Olivet Varsity Basketball Team exhibited competitiveness and confidence during this year of transition and rebuilding. Strengthened by their determination, the Tigers were consistent in their ability to score. Leading the scoring was Gary Corzett with a 17-point average per game, followed by Pat Martin with a 15.4-point average. Leading rebounder was also Gary Corzett, accounting for his placement on the All-Conference team and the second string All-American team for the NCCAA. Pat Martin gained recognition by being placed on the All-Tournament team at Chicago State. Led by captains Don Barr and Gary Corzett, the team put forth an overall good effort, with the only disadvantage lying in their physical strength and size. Due to these two factors, they often had trouble on defense in allowing shots to be taken and points to be scored. In spite of losing Don Barr, Al Jackson, Kirk Mason, and Dave Means to graduation, the outlook for the 1980-81 season appears good. With team experience and the possibility of effective recruiting, the Tigers are expecting next year to be a year of added achievement.

JV Team Essential To Good Varsity

Junior Varsity Basketball has become a team which causes us to sit up and take notice. The 1979-80 team played well together, displaying skill and desire, and gathering experience, too. Strengthened by the fact that many of its players also played some Olivet Varsity, the J.V. team is a good, strong team, with a great deal of potential. Keith Peachy and Jeff Kinser were just two J.V. players who were seen quite often on the court with the Varsity team, adding strength to the team and, in return, reaping experience. Based on this year's team, the potential that could be added to the varsity squad for next year is unlimited.

Grapplers Conquer

Winning the sixth annual Tiger Invitational was expected, but when the Olivet wrestling team took it by 25 Points, there was excitement in Burchard Gym. With four individual champions and one runner-up, the Tigers gained their second team title with 81 points, followed by North Park with 56. Named the tournament's outstanding wrestler, Senior Rick Tripp took the 142-pound crown. Other championships went to Al McQueen (118 pound), Joe Nugent (150 pound), and Darryl Wellman (167 pound). Due to an injury, freshman Dave Cozad had to settle for a second place to North Park. With eight teams involved, and points ranging from 14½ through 81, Olivet once again proved itself worthy of a win.

Wrestlers Are Men With Muscle

Strengthened by experienced players and good recruiting, the Olivet Wrestlers had one of the best seasons of their history. More records were set, and overall good scores were recorded. With the main recruiting thrust lying in the middle weights this year, the Tigers saw their finest group of freshmen since the sport became established at Olivet. Assisted by freshmen Stan Adler, Darryl Wellman, and Dave Cozad, the Tigers saw the middle weight section as their advantage. Co-captains Al McQueen and Rick Tripp both displayed the exceptional wrestling abilities necessary for a strong wrestling program's success. Recruiting for next year is being aimed toward the lower weights to round out the team and to make the 1980-81 season as much a success as this year's.

Finishing the season with a 2-12 record, the Women's Volleyball Team displayed a talent characteristic of a winning team, though the ability to pull together didn't quite fall into place. While the squad had a good spiking team in Sue Brady and Sandy Pokorny, it lacked the back-up necessary to use those spikers to their fullest potential. Olivet did, however, place a member of the squad, Sandy Pokorny, on the All-Conference 2nd team. Led by captain Deanna Banks, the Tigers managed to pull a win over Illinois State University (15-10; 15-9) and Trinity College (15-12; 15-13; 15-9). Although the season wasn't a winning one, the ability was there, and the outlook for next year is optimistic.

Lady Cagers Display Talent

Traveling to Mount Vernon Nazarene College, the Women's Basketball Team managed a 57-55 victory, making up for a similar loss to Mount Vernon just two years ago. Starting the game by trailing 0-10, the Lady Tigers managed, at half-time, to take the lead by two points. The excitement in the game was the continuous closeness of the score. Good teamwork was evidenced, as the team pulled together in a united effort. Led in scoring and rebounding by Patti Nymeyer with 19 of each, the Tigers displayed a confidence essential in winning. Linda Manville followed with 14 points and 9 rebounds, while Karen Kundrat put in 8. Returning to Olivet was unlike the trip two years before, the feeling of winning was electric and the smiles of victory were rewarding.

Women Excel

The 1979-80 season for the Olivet Women's Basketball Team proved to be a time of strengthening and rebuilding. Finishing with a disappointing 7-15 record, the team, while not establishing records, did make important steps toward building a solid foundation for next season. High scorer was Patti Nymeyer with an average of 21 points per game, in addition to pulling down an average of 14 rebounds. Linda Manville and Joyce Smith followed, each averaging 12 points per game. Aiding in team strength was the fast-paced play maintained by the guards, the durability due to good conditioning, and an influx of talented freshmen. Hindering these positive aspects, however, were the inconsistencies evidenced in the games. Going to State Tournament, the Lady Tigers failed to rank, yet they did manage to place two players, Patti Nymeyer and Linda Manville, on the All-Conference Team. In regard to next year, the outlook appears promising. Losing only one player to graduation, Patti Nymeyer, the experience and strength gained this year will apply toward a more balanced team next year. Recruiting is encouraging, and the possibilities appear unlimited.

1. Patti Nymeyer takes control at the jump as Marva Miracle awaits the ball.
2. Sandwiched between two Rockford players, Linda Manville takes the ball up for two.

The 1979-80 Tiger Cheerleaders displayed a renewed spirit, accompanied by new cheers and high-quality routines. Due to the increased seating available for spectators, the football cheerleaders were able to lead the fans more effectively in bolstering the team's spirits. With the formation of a J.V. squad the basketball cheerleaders were able to take full advantage of the added enthusiasm, often employing a combination of squads in the cheers. Backed by the skill of the present cheerleaders, and with the promise of experienced J.V. cheerleaders, next year promises to be a year to watch Olivet's spirit soar.

Olivet's 1979 baseball season, with a record of 19-11, proved to be a good year for the Tigers, a time of preparing for an even bigger and better season next year. Winning the Christian College Tournament and taking second place in the Conference were only two aspects of the tremendous season for Olivet. In the process, ten team offensive records were set along with nine individual offensive records. Co-captain Randy Gee led the team by setting records for runs batted in (RBI's), homeruns, and stolen bases, taking 23 out of 24 attempts. Voted Most Valuable Player, Randy had a batting average of .402, second only to co-captain Paul Stanley. Breaking two individual records, Paul established a record average of .448, which promises to hold for some time. Losing both players to graduation, the 1980 Tigers are looking toward the experience of last year's team and the talent of several incoming players to keep the tradition of a strong winning streak alive.

Tennis Sees Improvement

The 1979 Women's Tennis Team has finally started to see the end of a three year losing streak. Prior to this year, the Lady Netters had failed to win a match for three seasons. Wrapping up the season with a 1-7 record, while not yet a winning record, is encouraging to the Women's Tennis Program. This year's team was more competitive and more in contention in the matches. Led by Senior Donna Oxner, number one player, the team was one of the strongest Olivet has seen in a long time. The team for 1980 shows the potential for an improved season, with only one player being lost to graduation and with the acquisition of at least two new strong players.

Netters Secure Conference

The 1978-79 Olivet Netters were the first school tennis team to win a Conference championship, as they took the NIIC title, ending the previous seven-year reign of Illinois Benedictine College. The Tigers, who have become a state power in the past few years, were successful due to overall team strength. They were able to win consistently in every position. The most successful individual record of 15-1 belonged to Freshman Ken Carpenter. Losing only his last match of the season, Ken was one game away from being the first district player to go undefeated. Steve Frazier, as conference champion and a district runner-up, was voted Most Valuable Player. Rob Grider and Wayne Shumaker, numbers one and two respectively for the third year, continued their winning streak. Teaming up, they were conference doubles champions for the second year and were seeded number one in the district. Rounding off the team were Mark Gilroy and Travis Jones. Travis was conference champion in his flight, and a district runner-up, while Mark was a runner-up in both conferences. The Tigers, with five of their six starters returning, look toward the season of 1980 as their opportunity for excellence.

O.N.C. Softball Threatens League

The performance of Olivet's Women's Softball Team continues to improve each year. With the memory of the 1978 team's impressive 7-3 overall record still fresh, the 1979 softball team, under the direction of Coach Brenda Patterson, continued to excel with an outstanding 16-4 record. They placed second in the conference, assisted by three all-conference players: Carol Chainey, Cheryl Eller, and Lee Ann Ward. Also voted Most Valuable Player, Cheryl was the only graduating senior. With eleven returning players and several talented incoming players, the combined skill and strength evidenced in last year's team promises another winning season for Olivet.

O.N.C. Track Gains Momentum

The 1979 Men's Track Team, despite poor weather, insufficient field facilities, and injuries, managed to pull out a successful season. Taking tenth place out of 21 competing teams in the NCCAA, sixth place of twelve teams in the NAIA District 20 Championships, and settling for a second place tie with Concordia in NIIC, Olivet's list of accomplishments is rapidly expanding. Most Valuable Player and Top Field Athlete Lyle Shuey set records in the indoor and outdoor shotput and discus. Top Runners were Dan Cook and Mark Montgomery, with Mark setting a record in the 800 meter run. Other records were set by Mike Neal in the indoor 60 and 300 yard dashes. Relying on the experience of this year's team, even though several members will not be returning, and taking advantage of Olivet's new track, the 1980 track team promises to show strength and the ability to have another successful season.

8. By drawing more participants, intramurals have also become more recognized as a spectator sport.
9. Intramurals serve as a channel of participation for the entire student body.

The purpose of intramurals is to provide a variety of activities for men and women. All students, faculty, and staff members have the opportunity to fill their leisure time with wholesome fun with individual and group activities. With active participation, a person can fulfill the need for exercise and social development. The objective of intramurals are health, skill, social development, and recreation. They are activities for the Olivet community, designed to allow participation for students other than those involved in intercollegiate sports.

Promotion Is Key to Intramurals

Intramurals are becoming a program of mass involvement, due to increased promotion via tournaments and contests. New this year were wrestling and co-ed basketball, joining the recently developed free-throw contests. By increasing the number and variety of sports involved, there was a greater appeal to the general student body. Regularly scheduled basketball games drew consistently good crowds, while "special events" such as the free-throw contests, took place during half-times of Tiger basketball games. The future of the intramural program appears promising, with the guarantee of additional activities and a more complex program.

- 1 Evidenced in the intramural program are skills comparable to those of intercollegiates, with determination to match.
- 2 Although the purpose of the sport is the same, intramurals employ unusual tactics.
- 3 Jody Postin, of the "famous" 4-W-A's, puts up the shot, while successfully blocking out Kenny Yamauchi.
- 4 With his whistle ever-ready, the referee looks on as Duane Warren flies to the mat.
- 5 Mark "Krunch" Kruszynski moves into a pinning combination over Mike Conway to gain control.
- 6 Official Al McQueen shows more "administrative" compassion than most referees.

COLLEGE CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

Olivet and Breese Streets
Kankakee, Illinois

"Serving Olivet and the Kankakee Community"

JAY BAYNUM
PASTOR

College Church of the Nazarene strives to bring the community and campus together in worship of God. College Church is directly adjacent to the campus and provides a convenient place for students and faculty to fellowship in Jesus. Through outreach programs, including the "Hour of Hope" cable telecast Sunday evenings, college church reaches out to the entire Kankakee community with the message of Christ's love. Pastor Jay Baynum, his staff, and lay leaders, are constantly seeking to minister to the spiritual needs of all the people.

EPILOGUE

Olivet — Where the future begins. The concept of 'where' carries with it the idea of a spatial relationship. Olivet is a physical location where we prepare for the tomorrow of our lives. But this is 1980, the beginning of a decade, the prelude to a new century. The year 1980 is 'when' the future comes to the attention of everyone. It is at this time that we stand and look at Olivet Nazarene College and its part in our future.

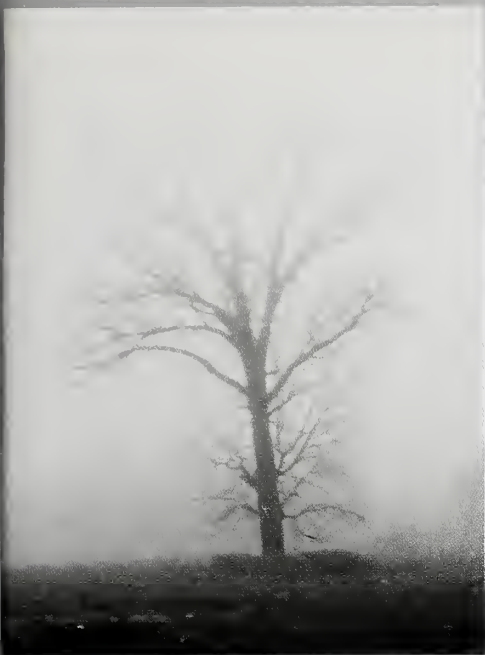

The 1979-1980 school year at Olivet was filled with notable events. The C. W. Ward Football Stadium and the Willis E. Snowbarger Athletic Field were opened. The student enrollment topped the 2000 mark for the first time. The Bill Gaither Trio appeared at Olivet in a benefit concert for the Larsen Fine Arts Center. The Kelly Prayer Chapel was completed. The ONC Tiger football team saw its best season, six wins and three losses. It all made an exciting ending to the decade of the '70's.

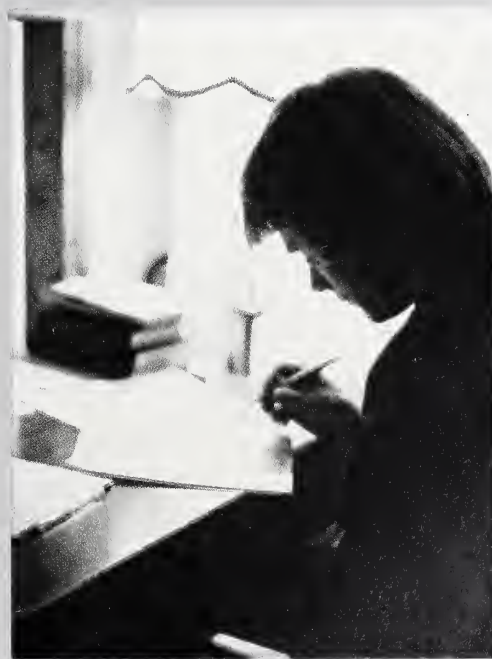

The future is often a vague concept, but at Olivet the future is a definite goal. The buildings, the courses of study, and the beautiful grounds are all things, objects; they cannot strive or struggle. They cannot know the friendship and love of a Christian brother. They cannot know the excitement at a basketball game or the joy at a revival service. Because Olivet Nazarene College is individuals, us, the future is a goal for you and me. Jesus died to light our future with hope and love. Olivet is where the future begins.

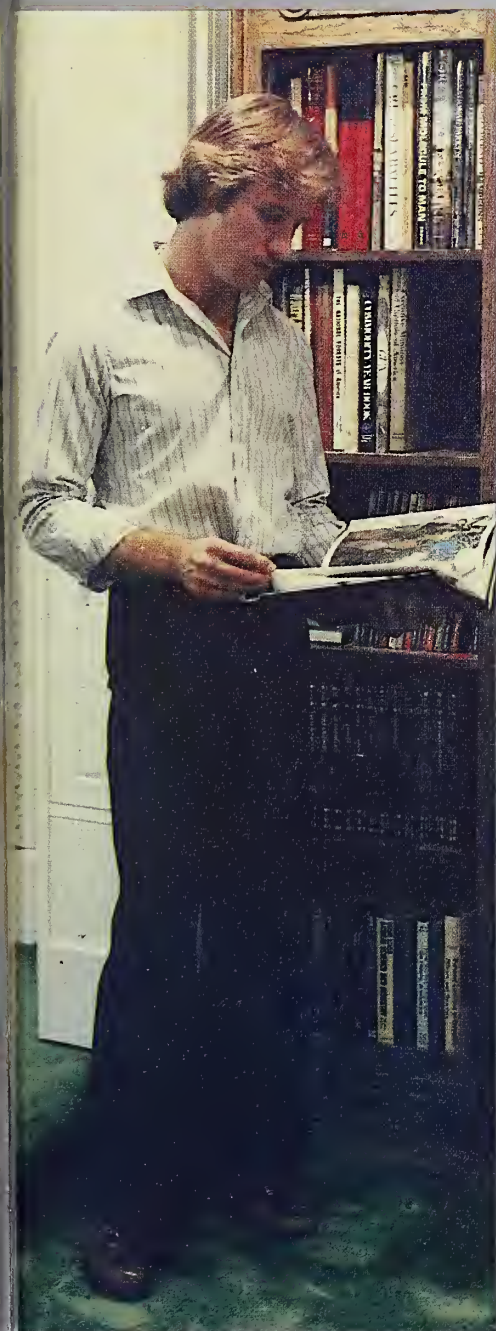

THE EDITOR

In the broad sweep of the life of a college, one year may not seem like much, but for me the 1979-1980 school year has been a fantastic experience. I have enjoyed my responsibility of recording a year in the life of Olivet Nazarene College, and I have learned a great deal. The 1980 AURORA reflects the hard work and concern of many people. I give a special thanks to Jim, Gloria, Brian, Anne, Beth, Tami, Polly, Suzy, Mary and Mardee; they are more than staff members, they are friends. I thank my fiancée Coralee for her love and support. I thank Dr. Finger and Rev. Lee for their guidance and help. I thank Corey Mundwiler and Dennis Phillips our Taylor Publishing Company Representatives for their effort and concern. Most of all I thank Christ for his love and grace: Psalm 8:9, "O LORD, our Lord, how majestic is your name in all the earth!" Daniel Behr, 1980 AURORA Editor.
